

EXHIBIT

B

Tim Sweeney
@TimSweeneyEpic

Today's ruling isn't a win for developers or for consumers. Epic is fighting for fair competition among in-app payment methods and app stores for a billion consumers.

Mark Gurman  @markgurman · Sep 10

Apple's response to Judge's ruling in Epic Case:

the Court has affirmed what we've known all along: the App Store is not in violation of antitrust law. As the Court has affirmed, 'success is not illegal.' Apple faces rigorous competition in every segment in which we do business, and our customers and developers choose us because our products and services are the best in the world. We remain committed to ensuring the App Store is a safe and trusted place that supports a thriving developer community of more than 2.1 million U.S. jobs, and where the rules apply to everyone.

9:47 AM · Sep 10, 2021 · Twitter Web App